MEDICAL CARD SYSTEM PARTNERS WITH GORMAN HEALTH GROUP ON MANAGEMENT REALIGNMENT

WASHINGTON, December 13, 2011 — Gorman Health Group (GHG), one of the nation's leading professional services firms and software providers for government-sponsored health care, today announced the appointment of an interim management team to lead Medical Card System (MCS) of San Juan, Puerto Rico in a strategy to strengthen its member and provider services.

The interim management team provided by GHG includes Jim O'Drobinak as Chief Executive Officer, Fred Dodson as the President of MCS Advantage and Craig Lyon as Vice President of Provider Relations. The interim management team will focus on the development and execution of strategies to strengthen the company's continuing businesses, including MCS Life (large and small business and individual accounts) and MCS Advantage (Medicare). The MCS Board will continue its search for a permanent CEO. Gorman Health Group will be providing a number of subject matter experts to assist the management team.

In its statement announcing the changes, the MCS Board said, "MCS has a proud 28-year heritage of service to the health of Puerto Rico. Our goal is to re-energize and expand upon our historic commitment to compliance and exemplary member and provider service. We have talented and dedicated people and an impressive variety of commercial and government-sponsored products. This Board is fully committed to ensuring that MCS has the resources and support necessary for MCS to be an admired leader in Puerto Rico's health care community."

"I'm very impressed with the MCS product offering and the recent performance in open enrollment for Medicare Advantage. We look forward to working with the entire MCS team and its network of 10,000+ providers to serve the 300,000 residents of Puerto Rico who have trusted their health to this proud organization," said Jim O'Drobinak, the new Chief Executive Officer of MCS.
